

Plants are neat.

Grow them and grow your skills!

This month is focused on the study of plants and textures. You can learn a surprising amount from plants!

When drawing plants, try starting with the thicker parts first: where did they grow from? With trees, draw the trunk, even if it's covered up, then the branches, then the leaves.

Drawing leaves up close? Start from the stem, then the center, then those lines and other textures that fan out.

Missed January? Don't worry! You can use this calendar as much or as little as you like, and you don't need to have finished last month's to do this one.

It's not all just plants! There are plenty of free days and other silly drawing starters here. And you always have the option to draw what you want instead.

This is the second month of this calendar! I will be continuing to make more through the year. Print it out and keep it with your sketchbook! Check back near the end of the month for March.
