

Food is great.

Liven up your art
with fresh cuisine!

Food is a subject that has been present through art since the beginning of time. It can teach us so much about textures, values, and even perspective!

Food is never as plain as our minds imagine it. Try to pay close attention to pictures of food, or even the food right in front of you as you have your lunch. Do you see the microscopic shadows? The variations in texture? How light reflects off its different surfaces?

Welcome to March! Why food? Hey, any month is a great month for food. There's so much to draw with food alone, and if we sprinkle in some art practice and creative characters, the combinations are endless!

But it doesn't have to be only food! If you want to draw something else each day, go for it – that's what's important. Remember that each day has a blank box for you to use.

Keep up that art practice! Food can be difficult to draw, so don't feel discouraged if you can't quite get it all right. Stumbling through it is what builds your skills.

Like the prompt?
Draw it and check ☒ it off.

Not feeling it?
Draw what you want and write it in the blank space.

This calendar is yours.
Miss a day? Drew the wrong thing? That's OK! We're all human. Let yourself make mistakes.
