

variety
grab bag of the year

Sometimes what keeps us interested in creating is by having lots of variety. To let loose and make anything that comes to mind.

You can have a mixture of studies and fun in your own pile of ideas. Forcing some variety into your day to day can keep you motivated.

It's the end of 2025! You made it to December. Congrats! Let's let loose and try a bunch of different topics. As always, you have the choice of drawing what is suggested here, or changing it into your own ideas.

As we try some new things, we revisit some past topics. This can be a fun opportunity to redraw some past art you've made with a new spin. The changes to something familiar can be quite fun!

No matter if you've stuck with this calendar or have only just now seen it, thank you for drawing with me this year! I hope you have an amazing holiday season, celebrated in whatever way you feel is right.
